#
1	The group should choose a leader	1	2	3	[4]	5
2	One achieves the most if all group members' function can be discussed and criticised openly.	1	2	3	4	5
3	The group obtain the best result if each team member is given a specific role (leader, secretary, etc.)	1	2	(3)	4	5
4	If disagreement exists in the group do not show your emotion but stick to the case.	1	2	(3)	4	5
5	Those who talk much should calm down and those who are silent should pull themselves together and speak up.	1	2	3	(4)	5
6	Decisions should be unanimous and accepted by all. Minority or majority decisions should not be allowed.	1	2	(3)	4	5
7	It's as important to discuss feelings as it is to discuss concrete knowledge.	1	2	3	(4)	5
8	Those who are silent agree or accept if they don't speak up in good time.	1	2	(3)	4	5
9	Everybody should be given an opportunity to speak up and express his/hers views until he/she feels he/she is understood even if it takes a long time.	1	2	3	4	(5)
10	It's better to accept compromises than to discuss disagreements.	1	2	(3)	4	5
11	Misunderstandings are best avoided if participants are given the opportunity to express how they understand an expression from another team member.	1	2	3	(4)	5
12	If one team member seems to know the most he/she should be allowed to dominate the others.	1	2	(3)	4	5
13	The best way to learn to function in a group is to listen to what the experts say.	1	2	3	(4)	5
14	Roles like leadership, secretary, etc. should be tried by all team members.	1	(2)	3	4	5
15	Everybody should feel free to discuss anything even if it results in unpleasant discussions.	1	2	3	(4)	5

GROUP N.	1
TOP 3 QUESTIONS	9.	5	2.
STUDENT SIGNATURE	Audrey PRETOT
STUDENT SIGNATURE	Rodrigo Basurto
STUDENT SIGNATURE	Mile Trendafiloski
STUDENT SIGNATURE	ANDRES LUIS
STUDENT SIGNATURE	Anastasia Sevostianou
STUDENT SIGNATURE	Szymon Blaszczyk
DATE	20.02.2018		